

The Museum .....

Based in the Suvla Barracks in Harold St., Hereford, houses the regimental collections of Herefordshire's military units: The Herefordshire Rifle Volunteers and County Militia, The Herefordshire Regiment, The Herefordshire Light Infantry and their successors.

The Friends is a society which aims to:

Help promote, support, assist and improve the museum

Create greater awareness of, and interest in the museum and the history of its regiments.

Benefits of membership ...

Free admission to the museum

Invitations to previews and special Friends' events

An annual newsletter with details of recent acquisitions, new displays, research articles and museum information.

Registered Charity: 272006

www.herefordshirelightinfantry.com

The Museum is totally volunteer run and receives no formal funding of any type; it relies totally on its volunteers and donations. The Society's income will be used to support the museum's work, including meeting 'running costs' and to help purchase new items, publish research material and support displays and exhibitions.

The Museum regularly hosts visits by: individuals – many of which have a link to the Regiment, local interest groups and also delivers outreach presentations to local organisations and schools.

Follow the Museum activities:

- The website features monthly interest article
- Regular podcast – 'Just a walk in the sun'
